

I am an XM Satellite subscriber and was extremely pleased with the decision to add local traffic and weather to the service. It is another valuable tool for me to navigate the roads on my commute in the Washington, DC area. I have noticed, however, that with this service available, I still listen to local news/traffic/weather on WTOP. I urge the FCC not to bend to the NAB's wishes and that XM should be allowed to air local information, much like DirecTV is permitted to air local programming.
